A Nice December Day:

There's a glow all around.
There are very merry sounds.
There are smiles that help your troubles melt

It's a nice December day.

Penguin Polka:

I know a penguin who likes to polka,
eats tapioca, and lives in Boca Raton.
He has some freckles, a lot of speckles,
And that is why we call him Polka Dot!

One and two and waddle, waddle
do the Penguin Polka.
One and two and waddle,
Polka Polka Dot.

One and two and waddle, waddle
do the Penguin Polka.
One and two and waddle,
Polka Polka Dot.

This little penguin can only waddle
But he's a model for any toddling town
He may be spotted, but we applauded
Because we love our little Polka Dot!

One and two and waddle, waddle
do the Penguin Polka.
One and two and waddle,
Polka Polka Dot.

One and two and waddle, waddle
do the Penguin Polka.
One and two and waddle,
Polka Polka Dot.

Polka polka dot – YAH!

Everlasting Fruitcake

A dessert has come to a fam'ly.
A fruitcake with resolve to stay.
We've offered a reward to take it,
but can't seem to give it away.
We gave it to Henry, our neighbor.
He gave it to Martha on the bus.
Then Martha, she took it to Freddy.
And Freddy brought it back to us. Oh no!

Chorus:

It's an everlasting fruitcake.
Just as soon as it's gone, it will reappear.
Though we've done our best to be rid of it,
it shows up at our house each year.

We figured that we could not eat it.
Its walnuts and dates were kaput.
It's so dense, you would not believe it.
So, please don't drop it on your foot! Ow!
We sent it to Norway last summer.
We put it into a big sack.
I guess there was not enough postage,
and we got our ol' fruitcake back! (crying)

Repeat chorus

We tossed it into our big mulcher.
We backed over it with our car.
We ran over it with our mower.
That fruitcake was not even scarred.
We figured it must be resistant.
Its toughness must be pretty great.
So we turned it into a football that doubles as a paperweight.

Repeat chorus

Yes, it's an everlasting fruitcake.
Just as soon as it's gone, it will reappear.
Though we've done our best to be rid of it,
it shows up at our house each year.
I wish it didn't show up every year.
Yes, it shows up at our house each year!

For the Winter

It's chilly tonight.
I see my breath in the air.
Suddenly Fall has given way to the Winter.

The wind's in the trees,
swirling their leaves ev'rywhere.
The nip at my cheek reminds me of what is to come.

And I sigh a sigh as I say goodbye
to the painted trees and the Autumn sky.
And I look instead to the days ahead.
And I brace myself for the Winter.

Nature, it seems, knows when December is here.

Birds have flown south, leaving me for the Winter.

The next thing you know blankets of snow will appear.

Bringing a beauty only the Winter can bring.

Still I sigh a sigh as I say goodbye
to the painted trees and the Autumn sky.
And I look instead to the days ahead.
And I brace myself for the Winter.

For the Winter.

For the Winter.

For the Winter.

COMBINED SONG: PERFECT WINTER DAY

It was a-snowin'.
The wind was blowin'
The snow was fallin'
All a-round me
I was a-slidin'
My feet were glidin'.
It was a perfect winter day!

What a perfect day to build a snowman
Build a snowman
Build a snowman
What a perfect day to build a snowman
A perfect winter day!

I don't particularly like the winter
I always get (sniff)
A head (sniff) cold (sniff)
I think it's cold and wet and messy and sloppy.
Just a perfect winter (sniff)
If you like that sort of thing

I have a headache
My eyes itch
My nose is clogged
Oh, I feel crummy on
This perfect winter day
(Sniff, sneeze, cough freely)

3rd time through sing different part than the 4th grade.

It was a-snowin'.
The wind was blowin'
The snow was fallin'
All a-round me
I was a-slidin'
My feet were glidin'.
It was a perfect winter day!

What a perfect day to build a snowman
Build a snowman
Build a snowman
What a perfect day to build a snowman
A perfect winter day!

Oh, What a perfect winter day

Achoo!
